Powercraft Windscreen Covers

Transparent windows or windscreens installed onboard Powercrafts or Yachts are a great idea! They let in light; and offer vision and ventilation. However, where there are positives, there are also negatives. The flip side of transparent windows is the amount of heat and light they can let in. On one hand letting light in through a window is a good thing, on the other hand..... Hot bright sunlight passing through an unprotected window can damage furnishings and heat up the interior of your vessel, possibly to an uncomfortable level (especially on those vessels kept in hot climates). Furthermore, the shape and design of windscreens and windows on Powercrafts, Motor Cruisers and Motor Yachts do sometimes make it quite difficult to manufacture protective interior curtains and blinds.

Windscreen and Window Covers can be tailor-made to the exact external profile of the windscreen or window. Generally manufactured from U.V. stable acrylic canvas, the windscreen or window cover is normally secured to the super structure with traditional press-stud style fixings. Not only do these covers help keep the interior cooler, they also protect your furnishings, windscreen glass and surrounding frame from harmful UV light. Improved privacy is a further added benefit when using external Windscreen and Window Covers.

Here at C&J we are constantly improving our products and sourcing new materials, fabrics and fastenings. As an option Windscreen and Window Covers are now available in a UV stable mesh fabric. Obtainable in a limited colour range, this fabric filters out a high proportion of UV light, but allows some vision through from the inside of your vessel. Other methods of fastening the cover to your vessel are also available. In our opinion, the low profile Perfix® fasteners are an ideal alternative to press-studs for this application.

As with all manufactured products the C&J Windscreen and Window Covers are guaranteed for 12 months against defective workmanship and/or materials.
